

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0086] The present invention is directed to kappaM (κ M) conopeptide RIIK and its use for blocking the flow of potassium ions through voltage-gated potassium channels. The κ M conopeptides include unglycosylated and O-glycosylated peptides.